YOUNG MRS. NOE'S WOES.

Reasons for Seeking Annulment of Her Marriage.

In the face of a big bundle of letters from g Eva Crawford Noe to her husband, Pierre Albertus Noe, in which she calls him My dearest busband," says she is happier berself "your faithful, loving, true wile,"

that young matron of seventeen years swears
that she never, never loved the twenty-two year-old-youth, and that she married him July last because she was afraid he would put into execution a threat to shoot her if she didn't.

Anyway, after three years of sourtship between Pierre, who lived with his parents at 679 Hudson street, and Eva, who lived with her buxon mamma at various places, during which time Pierre devoted himself and all his earnings to her entertainment, she lasists that she wants an annulment of the marriage on the ground of force, and Reierewilliam Henry Willis, of 115 Broadway, will probably recommend such a course to Justice ingraham, of the Supreme Court, for the young husband does not oppose it.

DR. DEPEW THE CORPSE.

182 Broadway.

He Did Not Pronounce Mr. Cleve land's Political Funeral Oration. There was a notable gathering at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last night and the speaking after dinner was of extraor dinary interest.

President Cleveland, Congressman Breckin porter and no trouble in discovering him this iorenoon hanging out in the street near the house where Mrs. Gillon lives. He admitted that he kicked 'forman, but denied that he took his money. ridge, Secretary of the Treasury Poster, Dr ridge, Secretary of the Treasury Foster, Dr Chauncey M. Depew, Whitelaw Reid, Attor ney-tieneral Miller, President Schurmans, o Cornell, and Dr. John Hall all contributed to the feast of reason. Mr. Depew said he had expected to condol. Mr. Depew said he had expected to condole with Mr. Cleveland on this occasion, and had prepared his speech before election in the form of an impressive funeral oration.

He found, however, that the dinner was a Democratic ratification meeting, and that he, himself, was the corpse.

"A greater orator than I has spoken," he said. "It is the American people, and they have pronounced Mr. Cleveland's eulogy not in figures of speech, but in figures which were disastrous to us."
